“ Lee Whittaker Liotta posted a condolence I am one of AnnMary's many nieces. Although I had not seen her in many years, I have a very strong memory of her. I remember her as kind, classy, statuesque and had beautiful things. I also remember that she had a boxer dog (although I can't recall it's name) that I was very fond of as a child. I am saddened by the fact that I never got to see her throughout my life. I wish I had made a little more effort. I feel that I miss her even more now that I know I will never be able to connect with her. I truly pray that she is at peace.

“ Karen jackson posted a condolence Ann-Mary Strieder was my neighbor. Every day, when I'd be at my kitchen sink which overlooked her home, I was reminded of how much she cared for her property. It always looked picture-perfect. Mrs. Strieder was a wonderful lady who always stopped to talk. She was very private, and I tried to respect her privacy, but she was also very caring. She often asked after my family. Mrs. Strieder always kept me in her prayers and I did likewise. When my husband died, we commiserated on how hard it was to recover from that loss. As Mrs Strieder got older, I'd ask her if she needed help or if I could shop for her. She never let me help. She seemed to me to be a very proud and independent lady. I accentuate the word "lady." Nobody could question Mrs. Strieder's faith. She put her whole heart into her faith and let the Blessed Mother guide her. I will miss Mrs. Strieder even though we only shared a very limited friendship. I think she is at peace. Goodbye, Mrs Strieder.
