

Carol Ann Garrison

March 14, 1945 - June 26, 2023

No obituary found for this tribute.

Tribute Wall

DV

“ Carol will truly be missed. She was a compassionate person to animals.
I would play badminton with her daughter Lisa & Carol would join in. Also had fun sleepovers at her house. My deepest condolences go out to Lisa & her daughter.
So sad to hear of her lose. 🙏

---

Denise Viotto - July 03, 2023 at 08:43 AM

AD

“ I am so very sorry to hear that Carol has passed. Carol and I have been neighbors for the last 6 years and she was always a lovely person to have around. I didn't get to know her as well as I would have liked but I do know she was passionate for animals and was very artistically creative. Carol was always telling my husband crazy fun stories about her youth whenever he helped her with an errand. I always referred to Carol as my spouse' 2nd wife and I was glad he was there for her. I will miss you Carol and I hope you have found peace now. Love to you now and always.

---

Angie Davids - June 29, 2023 at 04:42 PM

SD

“ We have had the privilege to get to know Carol over the past 7 years. As a next door neighbor Carol was a caring loving lady. I grew close to Carol and watched over her doing small errands for her over the past 4 years. Her love for animals we one of her many enduring qualities. The neighborhood will not be the same. I will trully miss our text chats and calls talking about her family what she trully loved to talk about. Sitting in her little living room having a ginger ale and talking about her past. She had great stories and shared many laughs. My heart is crushed by this news. You will live in my heart and memories for ever. Miss you Carol.

---

Shawn Davids - June 29, 2023 at 04:41 PM

“ Carol and I were neighbors for over 30 years. Though quiet and reserved, her independent spirit, enchanting creativity, and compassionate soul spoke volumes. Her front garden brought beauty and serenity to the lives of those of us in the neighborhood. You could tell she enjoyed spending time there tending to her plants and being close to nature.

A creative, free spirit, she enjoyed the art of creation and making things like scented bars soaps and candles. You could tell how much she enjoyed working with her hands to make these simple pleasures. I always enjoyed receiving gifts of her handmade creations at holidays and on other special occasions.

A passionate bird enthusiast, she shared her home with many varieties of birds. Her meticulous attention to each of them showed her caring and nurturing nature. You sensed that her bond with her birds was not just a hobby, but a soul-enriching experience for her.

She also enjoyed the company of Cokie, her beloved spaniel. After his loss, she began caring for stray cats in the neighborhood, nurturing them and providing them with shelter, nourishment, and security. Her love for animals of all kinds was a reflection of her kindness and compassion.

Not one inclined to socialize or share much about her life, she cherished her privacy. Despite this, what always shined brightly was her love for her daughter and granddaughter. Despite the physical challenges she faced later in life, she embraced the role of caregiver to her family with grace and selflessness, always putting their needs before her own. The bond she shared with them was a testament to her nurturing spirit and enduring love.

Carol - you will always remain in the corner of my heart. You were a woman of immense unbroken spirit who chose to live life in your own way and showed us all how to overcome adversity with strength, grace, and power. Know you are loved and will be missed.

pamela winikoff - June 29, 2023 at 08:58 AM