“ Salvatore Zottoli posted a condolence On pepa's 90th birthday I was about 25 years old upcoming my career in business and investing in the stock market... Pepa asked if I wanted to know the best stock to own? Of course the young entrepreneur in me eager to hear the next best winner replied Yes! Excited to get involved. He said Sal the best stock to own is stock in reputation. Invest into yourself, no one can ever take it away from you and you can take it everywhere you go... Since that day with many ups and downs in life and business, but always remembering to take the right path even if it was the path with the most resistance. My stock in reputation was my biggest winner today. Not only have I been able to leverage my reputation but I've been able to pay forward the best stock pick to many others that I've been given the honor to guide, teach and mentor. I've learned in life it's not about how much money you make or how much stock you own but how many lives you touch in the process. There is no U-Hal behind the hurst but just like Pepa said the one stock you can take wherever you go is your reputation... Today he takes his best stock with him to heaven.... We will forever remember Pepa for the amazing man, husband, father and mentor he always will be. Rest In Peace Pepa - Salvatore Zottoli
