“ To Eddie’s family, Jeff and I send our heartfelt sympathy. He was a great man and so giving. We have many memories of him and his antics and will always them!

My husband and I went to high school with Eddie’s kids and he and Carol, ( his wife) encouraged us ( a group of like 5 or more) kids to hang out at their house, Eddie would eventually fall asleep on the living room floor on a wedge pillow, as he worked early mornings and we’d be there late on the weekends. Well, if our language got bad, Carol would say “ssshhh, Eddie’s here!” as Eddie didn’t like cursing, believe it or not! So Eddie became “shut up Eddie!”

Years later I worked at CVS and Eddie was there lots of times. He’d see me and it was a race to see who could say shut up first! That always was a loving thing and always made us laugh! Rest in Peace, Eddie we love you ❤️❤️

“ My husband and I have known Eddie since we were teenagers, a couple of years! We went to school with all 3 of his kids and hung out at the house with Carol and Eddie and a bunch of friends all of the time. It was the house to be at. Drinking coffee, when we got old enough ( maybe) we hung out in the den downstairs with Inglenook wine. Eddie never liked cursing in the house, and when we were there, he would fall asleep on the living room carpet on a wedge pillow. We’d always catch ourselves if our language wasn’t good and say “ssshhh, Eddie’s here”. Well, after a while, we started calling him Shut up Eddie! So many years later, I worked in CVS and he’d come in for whatever, and as soon as he’d see me, he’d just say shut up and make me laugh! He was a great man and we always had the utmost respect for him. We will miss him for sure.

“ To Eddys family. I offer my sincerest condolences. I'll share this precious memory which is one of many. Ed grew his own horseradish. He would make me frozen horseradish cubes to last me throughout the year . Whenever I wanted to make cocktail sauce, I had fresh horseradish. In case you didn't know it, fresh horseradish will clear out your sinus cavities to your colon. A painful experience to say the least especially if you're not expecting it. Thanks Eddy! 🙏
