“ When I first saw Julie her calm demeanor and gentle spirit captivated me, she was the lector at the weekly 12 noon, Mass at the hospital;. Always well dressed and coiffured. Later, on Sundays I would notice her at OHR 7am Mass, once I introduced myself we became fast friends. Julie loved her little pup Louie and would miss him greatly. Julie enjoyed her hot chocolate, but not as much as she loved her grands and great grands; she loved fishing, crocheting, her plants and watching Hallmark movies. In her retirement years she became a daily communicant at OHR and was also a lector. I believe Julie's in Heaven with the Angels because she was already an angel here on Earth. My condolences to Kelly and all of Julie's family.-
