“ hello. my name is Michael Walker. i was born on November 23, 1960. Pierce Kerr was my neighbor and the first friend that i ever had. he was 3 years older than me and we grew up on Bouvier Street in Philadelphia. i used to play with him as a child in the alley behind our home. we would play army where he and i were the Americans we pretended we were under fire from the Germans and would return fire. we would throw grenades and shoot the Germans like WW II. we pretended we had field radios and would communicate our next offensive against the Germans. there was a bakery named blobs and a movie theatre a block or so from Bouvier St. there was also a park nearby that i remember. one of my last memories of him was riding in the back of a pick-up truck when he moved to his new home. i don't know where the new home was because i was really little. he and i sat in the bed of the truck while he moved, driving to the new home. i remember hearing that he went to Northern Ireland to help with the fight. if you want to know more, you can reach me at greenzkeeperturf@aol.com. i'm writing to you because i thought of Pierce last night. i searched his name and was sad to see he had passed. i'm sorry for your loss and hope that you will remember him dearly as i do. thank you
