“ Steven Latus posted a condolence Some of you might also remember him from the old Freeport Chess Club days. Richie was the organizer of the fabled "pizza tournament" in 1973 at the Freeport Memorial Library, so called because Richie posted the initial pairings by writing them on a cardboard pizza box. This tournament was the first step that eventually led to the formation of the Freeport Chess Club, with which I was also involved as one of the founders. Our "official meetings" took place at Richie's house in his living room. The club met on Thursday evenings at the library for many years up until the early 2000s. Richie was also the best man at my wedding in August 1974. He was a good friend—so many wonderful memories—and I shall miss him terribly.
